

PASTOR TELLS OF LETTERS

Alleged to Have Been Written by Wealthy Spinster

HELD TO FEDERAL JURY

And If Found Guilty of Using "Poisoned Pen" Can be Imprisoned.

Easton, Pa., Sept. 2.—Miss Harriet Dewitt, spinster daughter of wealthy George Dewitt, is held in $500 bail for the Federal Grand jury at Philadelphia today on a charge of being the "writer with the poisoned pen" who for nine years has torn up Easton's "400" by making wholesale anonymous charges against its members.

With a nonchalance that was not in the smallest way affected by the testimony during the day she completed the ordeal late yesterday afternoon when, without a tremor, she signed the bail bond with her aged father, adjusted her thin veil around her wide-brimmed hat, swept through the waiting lines of men and women who had suffered because of the pen-printed correspondence, and walked composedly to her home.

She paid no attention to half a dozen prominent citizens who had been summoned against her as witnesses and who walked immediately behind her.

The several hundred members of Easton society who have suffered in this last decade are breathing somewhat easier today.

Further around sat Marshall Miller, counsel of Miss Dewitt, then a vacant chair and next Federal Judge William S. Kirkpatrick, gray, suave, but a merciless cross examiner as it later developed.

To this room then came the defendant, Miss Dewitt, accompanied by her aged father. She was attired in a tailored suit of white linen, a modish shirtwaist, a broad sun hat and black gloves. When Miss Dewitt drew off the gloves her shapely fingers were seen to be covered with diamond rings.

After it had been announced that the prosecution was brought under Sections 212 and 213 of the penal code of the United States, which makes it a crime punishable with a $5,000 fine and five years' imprisonment to send obscene, defamatory or profane letters through the mails Rev. Mr. Snyder was called as a witness.

At the same time Marshall Schoneberger produced from his pockets about 50 letters of the number received by the minister or concerning him. Very quietly Mr. Snyder told of his ten years' pastorate at the Christ Evangelical Lutheran church, and his first appearance as a bachelor, in which state he continued until June 10, 1910.

He had met Miss Dewitt once or twice at the home of Mrs. Michler, who lives next door to the Dewitts, across from the parsonage. He had never called upon Miss Dewitt, never paid her any attention; they had only a bowing acquaintance, which continued for about five years.

Miss Dewitt had ceased speaking to him then. Why he did not know, but she evinced a strong aversion to him. She would toss her head and sniff as he passed her in the street, he said. If he sat on his front veranda she would never appear on the Dewitt stoop.

Another woman is believed to have been involved in supplying very accurate information sent out so conspicuously by the writer with the poisoned pen. This person was not the writer of all, for a uniformity of pen print is quite apparent in the 200 or more letters in possession of the government.

When Commissioner Turner's office was ready for the hearing three scenes were on the stage. One room of the suite was reserved for the witnesses, and by 9.30 it resembled the meeting room of a fashionable woman's club.

Mrs. Elmer E. Snyder, pretty wife of the minister, who was the special object of attack, was there. So were Mrs. Elizabeth Shipman, Mrs. David

SOLDIER ALLOWED SMALL CLAIM AFTER WAIT OF 46 YEARS
Denver, Colo., Sept. 2.—Forty-six years after he had put in a claim against the government for $23.31, James B. Earl, a veteran of the civil war, received his money. As the government pays no interest, Earl's check, which he has just received, was for the exact amount he claimed on Aug. 16, 1865, when he was mustered out of the Union army. At that time his pay check was about $1.66 and his clothing allowance, 71 cents.

LAWMAKER WIELDED A BIG CANE

Cracked it Over Cranium of Clerk He Says Insulted Daughter

WAS ON SHOPPING TOUR

In National Capital When Trouble Started Over Question of Raincoats.

Washington, Sept. 2.—Representative Charles D. Carter of Oklahoma, offended at a remark he said was addressed to his daughter, gripped an oaken stave in his right hand and put to rout the entire working force of the Goodyear Rubber Company. Samuel Gerber, a clerk, received most of the distinguished congressman's attention, his scalp being lacerated and his right cheek bruised.

Immediately after he had attended to Manager Lindsay, a cry from the employees of the store brought policemen running. Those who stood near by were treated to the unusual spectacle of a member of the greatest deliberative body in the world starting off for the First precinct, where his name was taken and where he promised to appear in the police court this morning.

Descriptions of the affair differ widely. About the only thing that both Mr. Carter and the young clerk agree upon is that the clerk was struck with a cane.

About 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon Representative Carter, Mrs. Carter and his two daughters, Miss Pearl, aged 18, and Miss Italy, aged 17, visited the store. Mr. Carter had selected raincoats for himself and wife, when Pearl inquired whether she could not buy a particular style of coat. According to the story told by Gerber, he replied that this style of coat was no longer sold. The representative says he insolently told the young lady that no coat of the description she gave had ever been made.

"I am sure you have a coat of this style," insisted Mrs. Carter.

The story of Mr. Carter is that Gerber then told his daughter she "didn't know what she was talking about."

"It seems to me, young man," interpolated the representative sternly, "that you shouldn't speak to a lady in such a tone."

Then, according to Mr. Carter, came the telling blow. He says that Gerber complimented him on being an old fool.

"I wish, sir," said Mr. Carter, "that you would not forget that you are in the presence of my wife and daughter."

Gerber says that to this remark he made a conciliatory reply. The representative declares that he indulged in a little barber sarcasm. Howbeit, there was little delay after Mr. Gerber's last remark. Down whizzed an open cane firmly held in a grip strengthened by years of hard and honest toil, down upon the unsuspecting and highly astonished head of Mr. Gerber.

Meanwhile Mr. Carter's wife and daughter fled. Breathing heavily, the representative stood a moment like Ajax defying the lightning. Manager Lindsay declares that he came forth bearing the olive branch of peace and that the enraged soton only snorted and aimed a punch at him.

At this point, according to the story of Mr. Carter, the office force called it "half a day" and came at him in a concerted and disconcerting rush. Craniums were bent and anatomies poked. The cries of the combatants brought the police to the scene in double quick. The representative was taken to the precinct, where he arranged to leave his personal bond.

"I did nothing to hurt Mr. Carter or his daughter's feelings," said Mr. Gerber last night. "All I did was to tell him that a certain style of coat that his daughter wanted was not in stock. He became an-

DOCTOR LOVING IS DEAD AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Sept. 2.—Dr. Starling Loving, 83, dean of the Columbus medical profession, died today at his home, due to the infirmities of age. He had been bedridden for several weeks and the end was not unexpected. Dr. Loving was one of the best known physicians in the state.

EMPEROR

Thanks Americans for Replica of General Von Steuben Statue. Many Dignitaries Present.

Potsdam, Germany, Sept. 2.—On behalf of the United States, Representative Richard Barthold of St. Louis, today presented to Germany a replica of the General von Steuben statue in Washington. The unveiling took place in the presence of the emperor, crown prince, several high officials in the German government, and a brilliant array of generals and nobility. The emperor responded to Representative Barthold's address with a set speech.

SEVEN DROWNED IN MAUMEE BAY

(Bulletin)
Toledo, Sept. 2.—James H. Wisler, superintendent of the Toledo waterworks; Harry T. Batch, prominent labor leader and coachman-at-large; Fred Shane, secretary to Service Director Cowell; William Platt, William Carroll, John Tucker, and Michael Mayers, employees of the waterworks, were drowned in the Maumee bay this morning when the launch in which they were going fishing was run down by the freighter Philip Minch. Tom Purcell was saved.

A rest house for tired gentlemen has been established at Gloucester, England.

Labor day will be celebrated this year throughout the country with more enthusiasm than ever before. There will be parades in the leading cities and towns, and labor leaders of note will address large assemblages of toilers. Among those who will be conspicuous in making the day notable will be Samuel Gompers, president, and Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, who head a vast army of over 2,000,000 workers enrolled in 1,428 closely affiliated organizations, and Congressman William B. Wilson, who will be the orator of the day in Atlanta. Mr. Wilson is a miner and for many years was very prominent in the United Mine Workers of America.

CONG. ASHBROOK ENDORSED FOR FOURTH TERM BY THE DEMOCRATS OF TUSCARAWAS

New Philadelphia, O., Sept. 2.—The Democratic central and executive committee of Tuscarawas county met in this city Friday, every precinct in the county being represented. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one and Congressman W. A. Ashbrook of this congressional district was unanimously endorsed for a fourth term, thus attesting to his wonderful popularity in this county.

MAY YET CALL BINFORD GIRL IN BEATTIE TRIAL

Chesterfield, O., Sept. 2.—Another scandal was raked up today by counsel for H. C. Beattie, Jr., in their efforts to keep their client from the electric chair for the murder of his wife.

Charles Kastleburg, wealthy meat dealer of Richmond, admitted on the stand today that he, with a woman whose name he did not know was driving his auto along the road where Mrs. Beattie was killed on the night of the murder. He stopped his car at the spot where the crime was committed and filled the radiator while the Richmond woman stood on the running board.

This testimony is expected by the defense to refute the testimony of the prosecution that several boys saw an auto stop at the scene of the crime shortly before the killing. The witness stated that he had not told this story before because he feared the embarrassment at his home on cross examination he was forced to admit that he could not tell within half an hour of what time he had stopped on the road.

Slowly but steadily as grind the mills of the gods today revolved the case of the state against Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., for the murder of his wife. The slim, witching little figure of Beulah Binford, sweetheart of the accused man in her cell in Richmond, was the enigmatic pivot about which Henry Beattie swung to and from the electric chair.

TWO DAYTON GAMES TRANSFERRED BY THE BASEBALL DIRECTORS

Considered Move Advisable on Account of the Financial Benefits to be Gained by the Change

Team Left Saturday Morning and Baseball Season for City Has Ended—Newark Made Splendid Record as a Member of the Central League Circuit.

The Newark baseball club played its last game of the present Central League season at Wehrle Park Friday afternoon, when they won from Dayton by a 7-2 score. It was a fitting wind-up of a season of excellent baseball which started July 3.

The Newark team left Saturday morning at 8 o'clock via the Ohio Electric for Dayton, where the remaining two games of this series will be played Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

The games were transferred because the club management was shown where it could make $400 more on the two games by playing at Dayton than could be realized by playing at Wehrle Park. This would not have been the case if any other team but Dayton had been playing here. The difference in attendance in any of the other six cities would not have warranted the change, for Newark is turning out better than any other city except Dayton.

The financial condition of the local club is such that it was deemed wise by the directors to transfer the games to get the additional profit, which will enable them to settle every outstanding indebtedness in Newark, which has been the determination of the management since the club landed in Newark. The officials have striven to operate the club and pay every cent owed to Newark people, so that it could not be said of this management that the club did not pay what it owed.

The operators have kept every promise made to themselves and to others and expect to quit the season with a clean slate.

It was regrettable that the transfer was necessary. But under the circumstances the additional profit which it was believed would be realized at Dayton was large enough to be attractive. It will enable the club to pay every cent it owes in Newark.

Already many of the fans have sent up a vigorous protest against the transfer. Looking at the matter from their viewpoint, their protest is probably justified, but there is hardly a fan in Newark who will insist that the transfer was not wise after he understands all the circumstances which prompted the transfer. There is no doubt but the directors will be glad to explain the matter to any who are interested enough to make a personal investigation. Reasons best known to the directors, they say, make it unwise to put these explanations in cold type.

The fact remains, nevertheless, that the games have been transferred and it is better to take an optimistic view of the matter than to kick over the fact that the last two games are to be played elsewhere.

After last night's meeting the directors issued a signed statement to the baseball lovers, explaining as far as possible why their action was taken. The statement in full follows:

Directors' Statement.
To the Public:
At a meeting of the directors of the local baseball club held Friday night, it was decided to transfer the two remaining games of the present series with Dayton to that city. The transfer was made after carefully considering the matter from a cold-blooded business standpoint. The directors were shown where the club could derive a greater profit by reason of the transfer, owing to the fact that Dayton had a larger population.

WETS OPENED THE CAMPAIGN IN PORTSMOUTH

Portsmouth, Sept. 2.—The opening gun in the campaign for a local option election in Scioto county was fired at a monster mass meeting held by the wets last night. W. D. Alexander of Cincinnati, liberal leader of the house of representatives, and Vincent H. Perkins of Chicago were the speakers. The meeting was presided over by former Probate Judge F. L. Sikes, who, three years ago, was an active supporter of the dry cause. The dries will open their campaign with a mass meeting at the Billy Sunday Tabernacle next Sunday.

The liberal leaders have accepted Attorney General Hogan's decision declaring petitions circulated before the time expired since voting out of saloons as illegal, and will start out new petitions September 30. Considerable over the required number of signatures had been secured.

BIG FUND

Of Dries to Keep Columbiana County from Going Wet in October.

East Liverpool, Sept. 2.—Columbiana county will likely be the first of 57 counties in Ohio to file petitions for another Rose county local option election this year. The three-year limit expires early in October. The "drys" last evening announced a fund of $12,000 available to go into the contest.

The "wets" will not ask for an election unless a personal poll of the county shows 50 per cent or more favoring that issue. A final meeting of the liberals of the county will be held here Sept. 28. The dries in many instances admit the issue has been a failure.

POSSES PURSUING BAND OF THREE TRAIN ROBBERS

Redding, Cal., Sept. 2.—With three posses in close pursuit of the three bandits who looted the express car of the southbound Oregon Express on the Southern Pacific railroad, near Lemoine, late last night, a battle is expected today in the forest west of the scene of the crime. The country thereabouts is heavily timbered and will afford shelter to the bandits. The three robbers, one colored, boarded the train near Gib-

The claim that Newark puts up better ball against the better teams is no idle talk. In yesterday's game, the visitors lacked but one game of clinching the pennant, and the locals put up a better exhibition than has been seen in the city for many moons. Especially was this true of Bemis and Martin the local battery which worked to perfection. Peg Bemis can unwork more baffling twisters than any man in the league when occasion requires it and when Peg feels right. And in yesterday's game the Vets failed woefully to get anything like a hit in the pinches. The fact that Dummy Kihm got fifteen put-outs shows that the majority of the swings were innocent rollers across the infield.

Martin showed up to best advantage behind the bat. As a caged wind-peddler, Harry is no slouch at any time and against the Vets he proved an invincible ally for Bemis. His work was smooth and accurate throughout the game. Winchell was pulled off the mound at the close of the fourth and Fisher who substituted him was even less effective. At no stage of the game did the outcome seem in doubt. The Molders ten hits went good for seven runs, being both timely and well located.

Spencer the much-touted hitter who leads the league in batting, failed to show anything. The visitors worked Bemis into a hole in the fourth from which Dolly Gray extracted him with one of those rare double plays, a fly catch and a peg to the home plate from right field, with the bases full and no one out. Wickland scored three men with timely hitting.

Newark scored in the first inning Craven fanned. Murray singled cleanly to center. Pendry walked. Wickland drove the ball against Knoll's shin and it rolled twenty feet while Murray scored and Pendry took third. Gray sacrificed to DeHaven and Pendry registered. Wick was caught stealing second.

The visitors looked dangerous in the fourth. Kirkpatrick walked. Benson singled to left and the league's best run-getter steamed around to third. Spencer topped his only hit and Kirk tallied. Knoll grounded to Bemis who did a foolish thing. He looked all around in a dazed way and threw to Pendry to catch Benson, who went safely on Jack's error. With the bases full, and none out, DeHaven smote a wicked one in Dolly's territory and the beautiful double was pulled off. Benson waited till the ball drifted safely into Gray's clutches and tried to score but Dolly threw quickly to Martin and ended the rally. Cameron rolled to Murray.

The locals chalked up another in the same frame. Gray hit a high foul and the sun got in Rohrer's eyes Big Cecil then slammed out a ripping two sacker. Kihm went easy, Kirkpatrick to Cameron. C. Parker sacrificed. Martin got a life on Kirkpatrick's error and Gray counted. Harry then stole a base. Bemis cursed his inability to hit and Knoll caged it.

In the seventh DeHaven came across with the other one. He hit to center and Wickland dilly-dallied while DeHaven stretched it into a two-base hit. Cameron skied to Craven. Dobard fouled to Kihm. Rohrer singled through Parker and DeHaven came over. Fisher popped up.

Pendry's crowd came back stronger in the second half. Bemis chopped thrice. Craven's grass-out went outside Dobard's zone of activity for a single. Murray went to first when his roller forced Midge. Fisher to Benson. Pendry drove a pass. Wickland tripled to right and Murray and Pendry dashed in for a swift trip. Cecil hit a high foul which went breathlessly near the big chalk line but Spencer made a sensational catch and the fact applauded.

The Molders annexed two more in the eighth. Kihm got a base. Clyde Parker dropped a bunt and Cameron and Fisher ran forward to get it. Benson was playing back for a hit and left the initial station unmanned while Clyde dashed through a clear field. Martin repeated the stunt and Benson covered. Kihm and Parker advancing on the sacrifice. Bemis popped to Benson. Crave walked and filled the bases. Murray singled over Cameron and Kihm and Parker made it seven tallies. Craven was tagged in an effort to score when Pendry swung his willow with more or less effect. The visitors went down in the ninth.

GAMES TRANSFERRED

(Continued from Page 1.) games to any other city in the Central League than Dayton. In fact, the fans of Newark have supported the present Central League team loyally under adverse conditions, and for this loyal support the directors are very grateful. Newark fans have done their share toward making the half season of Central League baseball in Newark a success. Now the directors are doing what they think best for the club to further this success and they hope the fans will see the matter in the right light.

We felt that this transfer of game was the surest way of replenishing the treasury, so that every out-standing debt against the club could be taken care of and the club could wind up the affairs and be able to look every creditor in the face with the feeling that the club owed him no money.

Newark has already witnessed 7 more games than the regular Central League schedule called for, by reason of the transfer of two series of games with Wheeling, one of four games and one of three games. While the directors regretted to deprive the local fans of the opportunity to see Dayton here Saturday and Sunday, the two closing games of the season, yet it was our belief that, under the circumstances, it was the best possible thing to be done from a business standpoint.

Regarding the financial condition of the club, the secretary-treasurer, J. E. McDaniels, will be glad to have any one who contributed to the guarantee fund, go over his books and see that all receipts and expenditures have been correctly entered and accounted for. Mr. McDaniels is now on the road with the club and will continue with them until the last game of the season on Sunday, Sept. 10, at Dayton.

Motorcycle Races At Moundbuilders Park Monday Afternoon

The Newark Motorcycle Club will hold its first race meet at Moundbuilders' park Monday afternoon, Sept. 4th, racing starting promptly at 1:30 o'clock.

From the number of entrants signed up now the meet promises to be a classy one as there are some very nifty riders of the "road louse" in this city.

Although the track at the park is not suited for the racing of high powered motorcycles some fast time can be looked for owing to the rivalry that exists between the Yale, Indian, Minneapolis and Excelsior riders and each rider will take chances in order to put his mount to the front.

There will be eight or ten events ranging in distance from one to ten miles. The main event will be the club championship race, a ten mile event, and some riding is to be witnessed by the spectators as the prize offered is a large silver loving cup.

Some of the riders who have all signed entry blanks today are Francis Kinnor, McGough, Gallagher, Schenck, Kussmaul and Kelly in addition to above there will be six or eight more sign entry blanks today. From the above list of riders it will be seen that some of the Newark boys who have a reputation for fearless riding are entered and will do all in their power to win events in which they are entered.

The meet is a closed one and is only open to the members of the Newark Motorcycle Club.

No admission will be charged to the park and a large crowd will undoubtedly be present to witness the races.

HELD FOUR ACES; LOST HIS MIND

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 2.—Four aces dealt in a poker game to Claude Lyons, a negro prisoner in the county jail here, a few days ago, probably drove him crazy. He was being held on the charge of malicious shooting and while the time away by playing with other prisoners. He was not in mental condition to go to court when his case was called. Immediately after viewing his "hand" he became incoherent, in which condition he has remained ever since.

CLOSE RACE IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE

It's a peacherino of a race in the National League this year.

What a shame that the bloody Buccaneers, struggling along right nobly and with an excellent chance to cop if their craft was only stable, are deprived of the services of their red-handled first mate, the greatest Pirate of them all since Kidd, LaRoche and Robert the Rover sailed the ragging main. Hans Wagner and his war club are missing, but Clarke's crowd is fighting gamely just the same.

Which shall it be? The three clubs, and particularly New York and Chicago, seem to be wonderfully well matched. The season's series between the Cubs and Giants has been an even break.

Except for a rather uncertain pitching staff Chance this year flashed one of the best balanced ball clubs that has traveled over the National circuit for a long time. Saier the kid, is putting up a sassy article of first basing. Jimmy Doyle is an improvement over Steinfeld at third, and Zimmerman looks to be neck and neck with Johnny Evers at his best. Chance's shooting staff, though, doesn't compare with McGraw's. The way Babe Marquard has come to the front for the Giants this season has given his team a corps of twirlers that is very classy, to say the least.

Four Central Players Are Drafted by Major Leagues

Cincinnati, Sept. 2.—One hundred and ten minor league baseball players will become members of the major league clubs next season as the result of the drafting process before the National Baseball Commission here yesterday. Of this number 65 will enter the National League, while 45 will start their major league careers in the American League.

The Brooklyn team of the National League and Detroit and Cleveland clubs of the American League appear to have been the luckiest in the draw. Brooklyn secured 16 players, while 11 will go to Cleveland. While Detroit only secured nine, yet no less than four of the nine men were wanted by several other teams.

Player Cravath of Minneapolis, Vint of San Francisco and Dubuc of Toronto were the best liked players. Detroit secured both Vint and Dubuc, while Pittsburgh secured Cravath, provided a claim submitted by the Philadelphia National League club that it had purchased Cravath is not allowed. In case it is allowed, Cravath will go to Philadelphia.

Two Central League players were drafted by the National League. By Louis, Stier of Evansville; by Cincinnati, Pattison of Terre Haute. Two Central League players were drafted by the American League. By Boston, Grete of Evansville; by Cleveland, Justice of Ft. Wayne.

UMPS TAKEN SICK.

Empire Cuppy Groeschow, who was detailed here by President Carson for the last series of games, was taken ill after Thursday's game and was a very sick man all night Thursday night and most of Friday. He was confined to his room in his hotel until late Friday afternoon. He attributes his illness to the water used for drinking purposes at the park. He was able, however, to accompany the ball teams to Dayton this morning, where he will finish the series.

MORNING GAME AT WEHRLE PARK

The Knights of Columbus will play the Knights of St. John Sunday morning at 9:30, at Wehrle park. Each team has a game to its credit and a corking good game can be expected.

SHORT SPORT

Laudurs, who wasn't good enough to substitute for Frank Chance, was practically given to Philadelphia and became the best first baseman in the business. He replaced Bransfield. Now the Cubs, needing a first baseman, have bought the player their man Laudurs succeeded. Can you beat it?

The oftener we think of Marquard, the oftener we want to take off our hat to this man McGraw who kept the $11,000 "lomon" until he became the greatest pitcher in the National League. The Giants took a double header from the Phillies and tightened their lead for the pennant. Magee made four hits off Matthewson while Marquard in the second gave only one hit—that to Laudurs. Although outbatted in both contests the World's Champions defeated Boston in both games of a double header and are now five and a half games in the lead in the pennant race. Chouinard went to sleep on second and was put out by the old hidden ball trick, the Naps defeating the White Sox, 2 to 1.

Brooklyn and Boston divided a double header, Nap Rucker winning his game, 8 to 5.

Gregg, of the Naps, and Walsh of the White Sox, two of the greatest pitchers in the business, opposed each other. Walsh gave up nine hits while Gregg gave only four. Lajoie failed to hit safely.

Cincinnati and the Pirates divided a double header which didn't help the Pirates any in their fight for the rag. Rescher of the Reds stole three bases in the two games.

A small army of minors has been drafted to the big leagues. It is a good bet that more go back than stick.

Caldwell of the Yankees held the Senators to five meekly hits and shut them out 6 to 0.

Hans Wagner has returned to the fray, participating in the first of the double headers between the Pirates and the Reds, but not being strong enough to remain in the play during the second game.

The Grand theatre opens tonight. Two new reels will be shown each day and night.

WEAR 'EM IF DIED BLACK. Akron, Sept. 2.—Although yesterday was officially the day for discarding straw hats, the season locally has been extended two months by dyers, who hung out signs making known the fact that a straw lid dyed black would be permissible until Nov. 1. The coloring establishments are already doing a rushing business.

TWO MOTORCYCLISTS KILLED. Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 2.—Two motorcyclists met death yesterday in a head-on collision. The cycles were demolished and both men instantly killed. The dead are Frank Morris, aged 21, and John Bowman, aged 19. No one witnessed the collision. A farmer found the mangled bodies and broken machines by the roadside.

Drilling on the Jungfrau Railway, Switzerland, has gone on night and day. The tunnel is extended about a dozen feet daily.

PENNANT FIGHT STILL UNDECIDED IN BIG LEAGUE

Cincinnati, Sept. 2.—That three-cornered fight for the pennant in the National League still is on, and the question of who will land the flag doesn't appear to be any nearer a solution than it was a month ago. Some dopsters figure that the New Yorks, by reason of a large number of games still to be played with Boston and Brooklyn, have a decided advantage over Chicago and Pittsburgh. It is also figured that the Pittsburghs, without the services of Wagner, who has been out of the game for nearly two weeks with a bad ankle, are out of the running. But percentages show in both instances that these deductions must not be taken too seriously. Boston and Brooklyn are stronger now than they have been at any time this season, and the Pirates are winning games, despite the absence of Wagner. Philadelphia may be said to be out of the fight for the pennant, and will have to bend its energies to keep the Cardinals from sneaking into the first division ahead of it. The three teams farther down—the Reds, Brooklyns and Bastons—seem destined to finish in the positions which they now occupy.

Followers of the game, whether residing in Cincinnati or at some distance from the city, will have the opportunity of seeing the three championship candidates on the local lot in Sunday games before the end of the present season. Pittsburgh, New York and Chicago come here in the order named for Sunday encounters, and it is safe to say that each will draw as large audiences as at any time this season, for the reason that the wise fan will want to draw his own conclusions as to the chances which these teams have with the best American League can throw forth. Added interest also will be given these games by the fact that the Cincinnati club will bring a number of its new men to town to perform in the closing games, so that a true line may be gotten on them at once, and not so much time wasted in experimenting in the spring.

For the second time within less than two years, death has invaded the ranks of the Reds and taken away a man who had not even donned a Cincinnati uniform as yet. In the spring of last year, when the Reds were in training at Hot Springs, the news was flashed over the wires that Alan Storke, who had been secured by Cincinnati from St. Louis in the trade which sent Miller Huggins and Rebel Oakes over to the Mound City, had passed away at his home near Boston. Storke was expected to fill the shortstop position for the Reds, and his death left that hole open for a long time. Last Friday Tom Lessard, pitcher of the Columbus, O., team, who had been purchased by the local management but a few weeks before, succumbed to illness, taking away from the game one of the most promising youngsters in the minor leagues. In neither case did the local management have any ideas, as the deaths were both sudden and sudden, and the men considered the property of the Cincinnati club.

Automobile drivers of national prominence are beginning to assemble in Cincinnati for the series of three road races to be held over the Silverton - Montgomery - Blue Ash course on Saturday, Sept. 9, under the auspices of the Fern Bank Dam Celebration Association. More than 20 cars will start in the three races, which will be at 150, 180 and 250 miles, liberal cash prizes being offered the drivers, while beautiful trophies will go to the owners of the successful machines. Arrangements are being made to accommodate 100,000 people along the line of the course, which is nearly eight miles long. The camps of the various companies will be pitched along the course and daily trial spins taken over the track from now until the day of the races.

The new law licensing glove contests of not more than ten rounds has gone into effect in New York City during the past few days, and from now on the thump, thump of the padded mitt will be heard all over the state, and particularly in New York City, where fight clubs are springing up like mushrooms. The most important, but scheduled so far is that arranged for early in September between Joe Jeannette and Sam Langford, the colored light heavyweights, perhaps the best men of their weight in the world. This bout will be for a purse of $10,000 and will take place in Madison Square Garden. There is no doubt that a tremendous crowd will see the contest, which will be the first of a series of real fights, provided the men having charge of the affairs do not get foolish and juggle with the law.

About 15 of the speediest motor boats on western waters will start the races to be held in this city Thursday afternoon, Sept. 7, as part of the Fern Bank Dam celebration. Particular interest attaches to the match race between John J. Ryan's Reliance III, which has made as high as 27 miles an hour in a race, and Wm. Whitlick's Hoosier Boy. It was originally arranged that Ryan should give a speed exhibition, but when Commodore Whitlock came forward with a declaration that he thought his boat could beat the Ryan hydroplane, the opportunity to catch these speed marvels could not be passed by, and so the race was arranged. Canoe, skiff and sculling races will be other features of the afternoon sport.

Among the latest novelties in handkerchiefs are those with a Japanese scene sketched in one corner with a very fine silk thread. The picture is about two inches long and one inch wide, with Japanese pagodas, blossoms, and branches of trees outlined in pale pink, blue, red, or yellow. The sketch is not on the handkerchief, but is on a separate piece of the material and applied.

Handkerchiefs of Madeira embroidery are popular. They are embroidered in colors, as well as white. Some have tiny scallops edged in blue, pink, lavender, or green; others have a sprig of flowers embroidered in one corner as well as the scalloped edge.

Colors, either in polka dots or as narrow borders, are used on most of the new handkerchiefs. Some have colored centers with white polka dots and others have colored dots on the white centers with a very narrow border in color. It is the fashion to carry with a linen suit a handkerchief with a touch of color matching the suit.

While we still see faces, embroideries, and the like, yet the very neatest patterns are of the sheerest material imaginable, delicately turned on the edges and plain hemstitched or trimmed with very narrow lace. Monogram handkerchiefs with nun eyelet initials, delicately worked, are very attractive.

Fine sheer handkerchiefs are easily made at home and cost much less than when bought at the store. Instead of hemming the edges they should be rolled French fashion. Dampen the thumb and first finger of the left hand and roll as finely as possible, as you continue to sew. The lace edging or insertion that you trim with should be sewed on with the same stitch that sews the roll. In other words, the roll and edging are sewed at the same time. It makes a prettier, more delicate finish than a hem, as it is almost invisible. Such handkerchiefs may be trimmed as simply or as elaborately as you wish.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lamb of this city and their cousins, Mr. and Mrs.

J. B. Ruffner of Luray, Va., who are visiting the former in this city, have received invitations to the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trowbridge Jones which will occur at Redlands, Cal., Sunday, Sept. 10. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are the parents of Mrs. Taylor Spencer, who formerly resided here and whose husband will be remembered as a popular B. and O. conductor.

Mrs. H. J. Wright entertained the Thursday Bridge club at her home in West Church street on Friday of this week. The first prize was won by Mrs. Jerome Ferguson, while Mrs. H. B. Anderson received the second prize. At the conclusion of the game dainty refreshments were served to the members and guest, Miss Lulu May Barlick.

Miss Annette Besuden entertained the Wednesday Sewing club on Friday of this week. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in needlework after which dainty refreshments were served the members and the following guests: Misses Helen Roberts of Columbus, Ann Sprague and Hazel Altshool.

Mrs. Martha Barnes of South Second street had as her guests at luncheon Friday, honoring her guests, Misses Martha and Ella Burch of Newark the following: Miss Carrie Hagelberger, Mrs. Fannie Uhlman of Spring Mountain and Miss Helen McFarland.—Coshocton Daily Times.

The Independent Circle of Rebekahs met at the home of Mrs. Susan Fristoe Friday afternoon. An interesting reading was given by Mrs. Kate Flohr and Mrs. Ankele gave a delightful description of her recent trip abroad. Mrs. Welker received the prize of the month. The guests were Mrs. Welant and Mrs. Miller. At 8 o'clock the hostess served delightful refreshments.

SIMPLICITY THE KEYNOTE OF CHARM IN CHILDISH DRESS.

A little girl's frock, made of handsome material, is usually twice as smart if made with utmost simplicity but good lines. This combination of simplicity and modish cut is shown in the afternoon frock pictured. The material is challis, with blue and tan dots scattered on a cream ground. There is a roomily cut kimono waist attached to a pleated skirt, the round neck being finished by a handsome Irish collar fastened at the back. Bands of blue velvet ribbon and fancy steel buttons add just the right trimming touch.

which was greatly enjoyed by all present. The next meeting of the Circle will be held at the home of Mrs. Whitehead on Leroy street, Friday, October 13.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Ford of West Main street entertained Mr. and Mrs. Philip Jones of this city and Mrs. Ernest Hess, Mrs. Otto Shafer and Master Philip of Toledo.

Misses Ethel Gero and Helen Herndon entertained Friday evening at the home of Miss Herndon in Penny avenue, honoring the Misses Mary Callahan of Cincinnati, Florence Pruitt of Toledo and Amy Samuelson of Terre Haute, Ind. The evening was pleasantly spent in music and dancing and during the evening dainty refreshments were served.

Those who enjoyed the Misses Gero and Herndon's hospitality were: Misses Jessie Singleton, Margaret King, Lillian Johnson, Augusta Hagan, Beatrice Goff, E. Anna Copeland, Fanny Locke, Evelyn Canfield, Clara Copeland, Mildred Gore, Elsie Herndon and the guests of honor.

GARDNER-CARSON.
The first annual reunion of the Gardner-Carson families was held at Hiawatha Park, Mt. Vernon, August 29. At an early hour people began to arrive with well-filled baskets. At the noon hour the long tables in the dining room were spread and a bounteous dinner was enjoyed. During the afternoon a social time was enjoyed in making new and renewing old acquaintances.

An organization was then formed and the following officers were elected: President—W. C. Carson. Vice President—Hugh Gardner. Secretary—Mary Bennington. Treasurer—Mollie Jackson. Committee on program—Mrs. Ella Phillips, Mrs. Jane Miller and Martha Gardner.

Those seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Gardner, Ina Gardner, Lela Gardner, St. Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler Ryan, Miss Martha Gardner, Newark; Mrs. Margaret Willis, Mrs. Margaret White, Columbus; Mrs. Sarah Carson, Mrs. Susan Jackson, James Jackson, Mollie Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. W. German Pan Cakes. Beat separately the whites and yolks of five eggs; add to the yolks one half of a teaspoonful of salt and one pint of milk. Stir in two cupfuls and a half of flour and beat for a moment, then mix in the whipped whites. In a hot frying pan melt a teaspoonful of butter, turn and shake the pan so that the bottom is evenly greased. Pour in about two tablespoonfuls of the batter, or sufficient to cover the bottom of the pan. Brown quickly, turn and brown the other side. Transfer to a hot plate and continue cooking until all the batter is used. Spread each cake as baked, pile on one another and send the plate to the table. Cut down pie fashion and serve with powdered sugar.

Grape Ice. A delicious grape ice is easily made by boiling together for five minutes one pound of sugar and one pint of water. Cool this, then add one pint of grape juice and the juice of one lemon and freeze at once.

SUICIDED WHILE GAZING ON PHOTO OF HIS INTENDED

New York, Sept. 2.—Broken in health and fearful that his approaching marriage would be unhappy, Daniel E. Garrison, Jr., member of a wealthy St. Louis family and vice president of the Corrugated Steel Bar Co., committed suicide at the Waldorf Astoria today. Nearby where he could gaze on it in his last moments was a photo of his bride to be, Miss Mary Williams of this city. There was also a letter giving the reason for his act as well as letters from Miss Williams imploring him to take a more optimistic view of the future. Miss Williams is now returning from Europe expecting to marry Garrison next month. They were to have lived in Buffalo where Garrison was to have taken charge of the Corrugated Steel Bar mill there.

Joseph Bennett of Philadelphia, son of Rev. J. A. Bennett, and Paul Weaver of the Holophone company visited in Columbus this week and took in the state fair.

A church was recently moved bodily across New York Harbor to State Island.

Lewes, Del.—Miss Laura Dorsey of Saugatuck, Conn., lost a parasol in East river and has laid claim to one recovered from the inside of a shark caught here.

Beverly, Mass.—Pauline Wayne, the White House cow, has been offered a stage career with championed special attendant, etc. She will appear at the dairy show at Milwaukee, but refused to enter vaudeville.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—One hundred members of the Rockefeller family association visited Uncle John D.'s Pocantico Hills estate and saw everything from the tunnel that isn't built yet to the famous organ.

New York.—Because for four years he had hounded Jacob Heintz, who stole meat worth $550 to feed his brother's children, Magistrate Butts sent William Delmage, a butcher, to jail for disorderly conduct.

Hannibal, Mo.—The boyhood home of Mark Twain has been purchased and presented to the city to be preserved.

Los Angeles, Cal.—After treating her dog for rabies, Mrs. E. M. Johnson, an artist, claims she will commit suicide if she developed symptoms of the disease.

Baltimore.—After they threatened his life unless he gave them money, Father Brown, of St. Marys church, overpowered two thugs and locked them in his kitchen until the police came.

Muncie, Ind.—Because he had no gun and nobody to love him, Carl Heimung of Richmond, Ind., enlisted in the army here.

Lebanon, Ind.—Mabel Reese, a seeress from Chicago, is in jail here. She expects to earn enough by telling the fortunes of other prisoners to employ a lawyer to defend herself.

Chicago.—Miss Thya Samter, of the Race Betterment League, has found that Chicago men do flirt. Many gals stopped her on the street. An aged "cove" was released on a plea of disgracing his family.

Chicago.—Claiming that Paul Hunkel played a photograph so much that it kept him awake, Andrew Dogoviz threw a cabbage at Hunkel. Both men were placed under peace bonds.

Chicago.—Having promised his girl to take her to a dance and his Sunday suit at the cleaners and the cleaners locked up, Matt Videia entered the place and the police say he took four suits.

KNOCKED OUT BY A WOMAN.
Last Monday Mrs. John Hogan, an Ohio woman, did her washing in two hours—a job that had always taken the whole morning. But this time she took the advice of several friends and used Hewitt's Easy Task Soap, which does the hard part of the work and does it in half the time required by the old-fashioned boiling and rubbing methods. Five cents a cake.

FREE TO YOU—MY SISTER

Free to You and Every Sister Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman. I know woman's sufferings. I have found the cure. I will mail, free of any charge, my latest treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—yes, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that many "home treatments" are safe and sure cures for Leucorrhoea or White Discharge, Irritation, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Ulceration of Uterine Tumors, or Growths; also pain in heart, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness, kidney, and bladder troubles where caused by weakness peculiar to our sex. I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that, if it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial and if you wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. I will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says, "You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharges, Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Clumpiness and Bloating always results from its use. Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this home treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten day's treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day, as you may not see this offer again. Address MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box M, Notre Dame, Ind., U. S. A.

Tells What the Voice of Labor Might Say.

SUPPOSE labor had just one voice, it would be interesting to hear what it had to say, wouldn't it?" said the Candid Girl.
"It would talk so loud, it would deafen you," said the Capitalist.
"As it is now, it has so many voices, and they all insist so upon talking at the same time, that you really can't make out anything that is said."
"Labor, if you think of it as some one composite being," went on the Candid Girl, "is really wonderful. It has tolled all through the ages and accomplished marvelous things; yet it has been underpaid, undered and overworked all the time."
"It's brains, however, and money that have enabled it to do everything it has done," explained the Capitalist.
"Maybe! But brains and money have got their reward. They have lived comfortably and fared sumptuously. But labor has done all the hard and sordid part, and in addition had little to show for it, not much more than a horse or a cow, sometimes, indeed, not so much. Yet it has kept on grinding away, patiently, uncomplainingly. It is heroic, I think."
"You wouldn't think so if you were up against labor," said the Capitalist cynically.
"Because you can see better and further is only the more reason why you should reach down and help them up to your outlook, not a reason for preventing them from seeing," said the Candid Girl. "If I were a capitalist I should be so proud of labor I should want it to have all I enjoyed. In fact, I should feel a bit humble in asking it to be my brother, for I would know it had played the finer part. It is one thing to be the man when you dress in fine linen, and sit down three times a day to a well-supplied table; but it is quite another to return day after day, dog-tired from your work, to a sordid home and hungry children."
"I would like to hear the voice of labor raised in such a clear, logical fashion," went on the Candid Girl, "that every one would feel compelled to listen, and could not but admit the truth of what it said. Then labor would come into its own—a working day short enough to leave both time and energy for recreation, or study, or whatever the worker wished; conditions to work in, not in any way, nor in any work, detrimental to health; and wages that left a margin for something beside a bread-and-butter existence."
"Labor is getting all that," said the Capitalist.
"Yes. Slowly," returned the Candid Girl. "But it ought to have it right off quick. It has just as much right; in fact, more right, for it has earned it, to such things than anybody else. It has done the world's hardest work since the beginning of time, and instead of receiving the best in return that the world could give it has received the worst. Labor to me is the world's most beautiful and most pathetic figure."
The Capitalist moved a bit uneasily. "It don't do to get sentimental," he said. "You can just bet labor is getting all that is coming to it these days."
"It's high time," said the Candid Girl. "And if it gets a little more, it would be only what is justly due it, for the years that are gone."

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN
Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.
Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.
It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

Sept. 2 in American History.

1802—Battle at Chancellorsville, Va., and tragic death between the lines of General Philip Kearny.
1910—Dr. Joseph Austin Holmes was appointed director of the new bureau of mines in Washington.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

How to Shampoo the Hair.
For a shampoo take a cake of pure white soap, place it in a pitcher and pour a pint of boiling water over it. Agitate for ten minutes and then remove the soap. When the mixture is sufficiently cool it is ready for use. In giving a shampoo much depends on thoroughly rinsing
the hair. Use plenty of warm water. The use of a bath spray
when convenient is an effective means of ridding the scalp of the shampoo mixture.

A large Democratic vote at the primaries next Tuesday means the nomination of the best men for all the offices to be filled. It means the nomination of men who can be elected and will be a credit in office after elected.

HOPELESS REPUBLICAN SITUATION

Has Taft committed suicide? Has he, in renewing his warfare on the insurgents, committed a fatal political blunder both for himself and the Republican party generally?

These queries have aroused discussions that are raging like a blizzard of words in political circles all over the United States.

Still another question that is being asked and re-asked, especially by Republicans, is: If the president does succeed in driving the progressives out of the Republican party, where will he drive them to?

And the conclusion most generally reached is that it is written on the cards that the next president is to be a Democrat. It is practically agreed that if a standpat is nominated, the progressives will smash him; and if a progressive is nominated, the standpaters will smash him.

What makes the situation still more hopeless for the Republicans is that the 1912 campaign issue is to be the tariff, the one subject on which the two factions can not get together.

Democrats are urged to turn out to the primaries Tuesday, as a full vote will mean an excellent ticket.

COUNTY OPTION ELECTION PETITIONS

Attorney General Hogan's decision that petitions for new county option elections cannot be circulated and signed legally until the expiration of the three years time since the last election became effective, will prove to be a safeguard against possible technical obstructions in all the counties
where county option elections are contemplated. In many of the counties

SEC'Y. OF STATE'S RULING AS TO RIGHTS OF PARTY VOTERS AT THE PRIMARIES

Department of State, Columbus, Ohio.

August 31st, 1911.

In response to requests the following is the ruling of this Department in regard to the party affiliation that is required to permit a man to participate in the coming primary election.

This would be shown by the vote of the individual for the majority of the state ticket of a party and for the candidate of said party for congress, and for state senator and representatives. Anything less than this would be insufficient to indicate that a man had affiliated with a party.

CHARLES H. GRAVES,
Secretary of State.

that voted dry three years ago strenuous opposition is being made against holding another county option election. The probabilities are that in such counties injunctions would be brought raising the very question that the Attorney General has decided, and if such injunctions should be carried up to the Supreme court pending the campaign the decision might not be reached until months after the time set for the election had expired.

Tuesday is Primary Day, and all Democrats are urged to turn out and select candidates that will be an honor to the ticket, and who will be elected at the election in November.

CAN LA FOLLETTE GET TAFT'S SCALP?

Senator Robert M. LaFollette will give President Taft a hard race for the 1912 nomination. It is declared that the Wisconsin senator believes absolutely that he will win.

The progressive Republican or La-Follette headquarters in Washington is a bee-hive of industry. From this headquarters the progressives are being organized in every nook and corner of the country. It is possible to present today the substance of the claims which the insurgents make.
They declare they expect to control,
well in advance of the Republican national convention, the delegations from:

Wisconsin	Kansas
Minnesota	Nebraska
North Dakota	South Dakota
Oklahoma	Montana
California	Oregon
Washington	Iowa (in part)

There will be big, aggressive fights
for Illinois, Indiana, Wyoming and Nevada.

The southern states will be pressed to take up the anti-Taft fight on the ground that Taft's nomination will be equivalent to defeat, and that if the party hopes for continuance of the loaves and fishes of patronage of southern states, it must give its support to the nomination of a man with a chance to win.

At the primaries Tuesday a full Democratic vote will mean that good,
clean men will be nominated, men who will honor the ticket and who will easily defeat their opponents at the next municipal election.

MAIL CLERKS PERSECUTED

How are the railway mail clerks to make effective their protest against having to work in wooden cars when they are forbidden by departmental gag rule to criticize their condition,
disclose it to the public, or even petition congress for relief. This is a query that promises to perplex the mail clerks as long as Postmaster General Hitchcock remains at the head of the service. There are 1,000 wooden mail cars in use. They are run between heavy steel cars, or between a steel car in the rear and an engine and tender in front. In the event of a collision or derailment the wooden mail car is invariably crushed

like an eggshell. Yet Mr. Hitchcock, who is outdoing the "Little Father of all the Russians" in the imposition of a despotism and reign of terror among the thousands of government employes over whom his word is law, says the railway mail boys must make no protest. If they do not like their condition they know what to do. That is his ultimatum. No class of employes in the government service are in such peril as the railway mail clerks.

On next Tuesday night the Democratic voter will have his regrets if he has not voted at the primaries.
Think of this fact now and do not fail to turn out and vote for clean men who will be a credit to the city and who can be elected if nominated.

"THE WORK OF THE DEMOCRATIC HOUSE"

The Democratic House has, during the extraordinary session of Congress,
made a record so excellent as to surprise its friends and dumfound its enemies. Its superb discipline, its industry, its unanimity on all great questions, seems to be exceeding pleasing to the masses of our people. For years we had been sneered at as a party of mere negation, as being absolutely without the faculty of constructive statesmanship. The House has taken away from the party that great reproach, and in four months has passed more constructive legislation than any House has passed in the same length of time in two decades. This has utterly amazed our Republican friends who had really worked themselves up to believe that we could do nothing.
even if we had a majority. We have kept the faith; we have fought a good fight; we have redeemed or are in process of redeeming every promise we made in order to win the election in 1910. Most emphatically the House of Representatives is justified by its works.

The principal promises on which we won the election were these:
First, to pass a resolution submitting a Constitutional amendment providing for the popular election of United States Senators. So far as the House is concerned that has been done.
Second, to pass a bill compelling the publication of campaign expenses before the election. That too has been done.
Third, to admit New Mexico and Arizona as two States. That has been done.
Fourth, to revise and liberalize the rules of the House. That also has been done.
Fifth, to revise the tariff downward to a revenue basis. A fine start has been made in that direction. We have accomplished as much in that regard

NAT GOODWIN.

He's writing a book about the lives of all his plain and fancy wives. A few of them he may forget, but all the rest are in a sweat for Nat, his heart devoid of ruth, declares he'll tell the ghastly truth. Since girls are bound to marry Nat, they'll have to stand for things like that. To wed that sassy Goodwin had to go to be a sort of fad, which shows a low, degraded taste, for other games are far more chaste. The women of this modern day consider life a giddy play; to find amusement as they go is all the yearning that they know. When I was young the sober dames bent o'er their trusty quilling frames, and made straw bonnets, day by day to send to beauties in Cathay; they brewed yuck tea and put up jam, and cured the large and luscious hams. Alas, unlike the old time dames, the modern girls have trifling aims; to drink champagne at gilded bars, to ride around in motor cars, to send to Paris for a hat, to smoke cheroots and marry Nat—this is the circle of their lives, such is the limelight brand of wives.

as was possible in the time in which we were in session if it were to be done scientifically and intelligently.
Sixth, to economize in the public expenditure. We have begun to perform that great task.—Cham Clark in the

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR CITY OFFICES

The Advocate having refused to publish paid notices of candidates before the coming Democratic primaries, the following list is now printed as a matter of news:

Any of these candidates
will command the full support of the party if nominated, and will fill the offices
they aspire to in a manner that will prove to be for the best interests of the city.

Thirty Years Together.
Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there is no guesswork in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and it's the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it for forty years. It is the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequalled for laryngitis, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.

DENIES OWNING PEANUT ROASTER WHICH EXPLODED

Mr. Christ Baruxes stated today that he did not own the peanut roaster which exploded Thursday evening.
He claimed that the stand and the roaster were sold last November to the boy who now operates the stand,
Sam Kaudres.

Many a man who is willing to stake his reputation isn't playing for very high stakes at that.

PERUNA SAVED MY LIFE.

"I Recommend It Wherever I Am."

Mrs. John M. Stabler.
M. Stabler,
Millersburg, Ind., writes:
"I have
been cured
of a very bad
case of catarrh of the stomach and constipation,
and a complication of all these things
that I have had for several years. I doctors, who did me not

much good,

taking it. I found I was getting some better, but thought I was not doing as well as I might. So I wrote The Peruna Medical Department, to see what they thought about
me. They gave me special directions and
medical advice.
To our astonishment I improved
and am today
a well woman

recommend it wherever I am, and when
any of our folks
are sick, I give them Peruna
with success."

THE VICE PRESIDENCY.
The right kind of candidate for Vice-President is a man of sound character and abilities, and of sufficient experience in affairs and public life, not engaged at the time of nomination in public service of high importance. Mr.
Underwood can qualify as to character
and abilities, but he is much too busy to be Vice-President just now.
Somebody has suggested Governor
Baldwin of Connecticut as candidate for second place on the Democratic ticket. He is the kind of a man needed, and would make a candidate of real

NEWARK'S NEW WARDS AND PRECINCT LINES

Board of Elections Will Transfer Voters' Names to New Precincts—Those Voters Must Register
Who Have Moved or Become of Age
Since Last Election.

The Board of Deputy State Supervisors of Election at a recent meeting decided to rearrange the voting precincts in the city to conform with the wards, of which there are now six instead of four as formerly. In the rearrangement there are 23 precincts instead of 25 in the city of Newark. They are as follows:

FIRST WARD.
No change in precincts.
SECOND WARD.
Precinct A—No change.
Precinct B—No change.
Precinct C—Formerly Precinct F, of
the old second ward.
Precinct D—Formerly Precinct E, of
the old second ward.

THIRD WARD.
Precinct A—Commencing at the intersection of the West Fork of the Ra-coon Creek and West Church street.
Bounded on the north by Church street
to the west line of the old cemetery,
on the east by the west line of the cemetery to West Main street and a line to the canal on the south by the canal, west to the creek, and along the creek to the place of beginning.

Precinct B—Commencing at the intersection of West Church street and the west line of the old cemetery.
Bounded on the north by West Church street to Fourth street thence south on Fourth street to West Main street, thence west on West Main street to Sixth street, thence south on Sixth street to the Racoon Creek, thence west by the Racoon Creek and the meanderings thereof, to the Ohio Canal, thence east along the Ohio Canal to the point opposite the west line of the cemetery, thence along said line to the west cemetery line to the place of beginning.

Precinct C—Formerly Precinct C, of
the old second ward.
Precinct D—Formerly Precinct D, of
the old second ward.

FOURTH WARD.
Precinct A—Commencing at the intersection of the Ohio Canal and the West Fork of the Racoon Creek.
Bounded on the east by the west fork of the Racoon Creek, on the south by the south fork of the Racoon Creek to the south corporation line to the Ohio Canal, on the west by the Ohio
Canal to the place of beginning.

Precinct B—Formerly Precinct G of
the old third ward.
Precinct C—Formerly Precinct C of
the old third ward.
Precinct D—Formerly Precinct D of
the old third ward.

Precinct E—Commencing at the intersection of the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad and the Ohio Canal.
Bounded on the east by the Ohio Canal to the south corporation line, on the west by the west corporation line to the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, on the north by the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad to the place of beginning.

distinction, though he might not be geographically attractive.
Another current suggestion is that the office of Vice-President should be abolished; that the Senate should choose its own presiding officer as the House does, and that the Secretary of State should be next in succession to the President. This suggestion will bear discussion at any time that the Constitution is being tinkered. At present the Vice-President is not selected as the Constitution designed. As a rule, he is not selected at all, but the office is scrambled for in convention as the delegates are leaving, and it is a gamble whether a fit man gets
it or not.—Harper's Weekly.

THE FAIR

Division of wealth is what the world
most wants. All people desire to share in the good things of life. The Buckeye State Building and Loan company is lending a helping hand to satisfy this longing. It pays five per cent for their money, and loans it at six—doing business on a margin of one per cent,—a very fair division of earnings. Assets $4,800,000. Rankin

William D. Sprout, whose place of residence is unknown, will take notice that on the 2nd day of September, 1911, Sadie A. Sprout filed her petition in the probate court of Licking County, Ohio, against said William D. Sprout, wherein she prays that she may be di-

account of his gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty in mistreating the plaintiff and failing to provide for her.
Said William D. Sprout is hereby notified that a hearing on said petition will be heard at any time after six weeks from September 2nd, 1911, and he is required to answer, if he desire, by that time.

To The Women

Some women are just a trifle timid about going to a bank to transact business. And why? Simply because they are not familiar with the rules of banking. This shouldn't be so, and, indeed, this isn't so with those who come to this bank, for we aim to make every transaction so clear and so plain, that dealing with a bank soon becomes to them an easy habit.

We appreciate the patronage of women. Their business with us is already large and steadily increasing. If you are not now a patron, then please consider this an invitation to become one.

BAD RUNAWAY OCCURRED ON WILSON STREET

A runaway on Wilson street yesterday afternoon caused great excitement although no one was seriously injured. The horse was badly skinned up, the wagon demolished, but Edward McFarland, the driver, escaped without any serious injuries. Mr. McFarland is proprietor of a meatshop in Jacksontown and drove to Newark yesterday to purchase some provisions at the Howell Provision Company on Wilson street. He had loaded his wagon with ice and was just turning the corner at Fifth and Wilson when a bolt dropped off a shaft and the horse became frightened, clattered down Wilson street, one shaft loose and dragging on the bricks. The shaft caught on the bridge west of Howell's and the horse tore out of the harness, throwing Mr. McFarland to the ground. The wagon was badly demolished. Mr. McFarland sustained a severe bruise on his right knee and had a finger mashed. He succeeded in repairing the wagon and was able to drive home.

STOLEN OUTFIT IS RECOVERED

While Wilford Jones, who runs a blacksmith shop on Church street, was attending the show Friday night, his horse and phaeton tied in front of Dr. Stimson's residence, was stolen and he was unable to find any trace of the outfit. At about 3 o'clock Saturday morning the horse came home to the Jones farm east of Newark. The police were notified of the loss of the phaeton and succeeded in locating it Saturday morning on Vine street. Nothing was missing from the rig. The horse had been tied up near the buggy but had broken loose. No trace of the thief has been found by the police.

Don't fail to hear C. A. Kerns, the sweet-voiced tenor at the Grand theatre.

GIRL OF 11 SAVES A LIFE.
Pine City, Minn., Sept. 2. — Ruth West, aged 11, saved Harold Bede, aged 2, a grandson of former Congressman J. Adam Bede, from drowning in Cross Lake, Ruth West lives in St. Paul and was with her parents at the lake.

Discharged Because Of His Wooden Leg Employee Suicides

St. Paul, Ky., Sept. 2.—Despondent over the fact that the railway company for which he was working discharged him because he had a wooden leg, Louis M. Bagby, aged 28, shot and killed himself.
Behind the suicide lies the pathetic effort of Bagby to conceal his crippled condition and thereby retain his job on the railroad. For five years he managed to keep hidden the fact that he had a wooden leg, and when it was accidentally discovered and he was discharged, he gave up the struggle as hopeless and ended his life.

FELL FROM ROOF OF BARN BREAKING BOTH OF HIS ARMS

Richard Beene, a farmer living near St. Louisville, met with a bad accident at his home about 3 o'clock Friday afternoon when he fell from the roof of his barn where he was painting. Both arms were broken and one wrist was dislocated in the fall. Beene was standing on a ladder on the roof of his barn when the ladder broke. He fell fifteen feet to the ground, landing on his arms. The left arm was fractured about two inches above the wrist and the right arm about one and one-half inches above the wrist. The right wrist was dislocated.

Dr. Whitchurch was called and reduced the fracture and dislocations, leaving the man in good shape for a rapid recovery from the accident.

WATCH REALTY ACTIVITY.

It's a good plan to watch the realty market carefully; keep in close touch with what is going on in improved property, business locations, vacant and acreage, for money is being made every day in real estate. The most desirable property that is for sale can be located to best advantage through the Advocate Want Columns. The Wants are an index to the realty situation and will bring to you, for your consideration, the facts regarding many pieces of property that are for sale but are never placed with a "For Sale" sign. Have you a particular locality in mind, would you like to secure a house, flat or an apartment in a certain neighborhood? Would you like to buy a country place or would you be interested in a vacant lot or acreage? Call upon the Advocate Wants to give you complete information regarding realty that will interest you most. It matters not whether you want to acquire realty as an investment or for use as your own home or for your business—the Advocate Wants are equally effective, quick in action and they cost but a minimum.
